

We are a multidisciplinary design and fabrication group based in Greenwich, London.

About AJ&B

Aldworth James & Bond is a multidisciplinary group of architects, designers, project managers, tradespeople and makers.

We are skilled in creative architecture, design, joinery, metalwork and finishes.

We work all over the world on a range of diverse and exciting projects and installations.

We're recognised as experts in all of our fields.

Our approach

Aldworth James & Bond are driven by true enthusiasm for creative builds.

Creativity, expertise and quality in the detail are of the utmost importance.

Making informs design, achieved by constant dialogue between our workshop and studio.

We are a dedicated group of young and happy people who love doing what we do.

Our services

We consist of four distinct teams, each with their own area of expertise.

AJ&B Projects completes creative builds for architects, designers, artists, companies and individuals. End to end delivery encompassing design, project management, procurement, manufacture, finishing and install.

AJ&B Studio is a dedicated architecture and design practice, offering our making led design expertise as a standalone service.

AJ&B Works provides a direct route to our machinery and facilities for production ready clients.

AJ&B Makes focuses on manufacturing furniture and products, from prototyping through to full scale production.
